Investing in the GOOD Life for Kids

We believe.....

There is great worth in every child. At Snow-Redfern Foundation, we are dedicated to helping young people overcome some of life's toughest challenges.

Snow-Redfern Foundation provides financial support to nonprofit partners that offer programs and services that make a life-changing impact for kids in need.

Though we no longer provide direct care as the Nebraska Boys Ranch, our commitment to equipping young people with the skills they need to be successful and live a good life still remains.

142,806

Total kids served by Snow-Redfern Foundation

All young people have potential, but not all are given the same chance to realize it. There are opportunities large and small to change this—and when we do, we change the world

Program Grant

This 3-year grant program was initiated to:

- Promote youth as capable community contributors and valuable resources in the community
- Empower youth to develop and apply their capacity to impact their community
- Increase youth leadership development with youth led and youth driven initiatives
- Connect youth via direct involvement in community action for good, serving as respectful
- Partner with community leaders as collective agents for change

Project Grant Funded Impact Areas

2021

Based on 2021 Project Grant Data

Project Grant Funds were awarded to a total of 44 nonprofit organizations to assist with short-term projects that directly impact children's well-being, basic needs, and education.

Career Pathways

High school pathway programs combine academics with exposure to careers. The goal of these programs is to give high school students an early opportunity to explore talents and gain experience that will set them on a path to fulfilling college majors and careers. The Panhandle Pathways Committee is currently designing a Rural model and Snow-Redfern will financially support initiatives within this.

Young Women's Leadership Development

As a tribute to our founder, Arvilla Snow-Redfern on the foundation's 70th birthday, a special young women's leadership experience was approved to be developed in 2022. Coming Soon- our first cohort of young female leaders!
